1. Introduction

This document details Veritas Wealth Management (PTY) Ltd Conflicts of Interest Management Policy

This policy applies to all employees of Veritas Wealth Management (PTY) Ltd.

2. What is a Conflict of Interest and when may it arise?

A conflict of interest may arise where a company, or one of its employees, is providing a financial service to its clients and may entail a material risk of damage to those clients' interests, and whether the company or its employee:

- Is likely to make a financial gain, or avoid a financial loss, at the expense of the client;
- Has an interest in the outcome of a service provided to the client or of a transaction carried out on behalf of the client, which is distinct from the client's interest in that outcome;
- Has a financial or other incentive to favour the interest of another client, or group of clients, over the interests of the client;
- Carries on the same business as the client; or
- Receives or will receive from a person other than the client, an inducement in relation to a service provided to the client, in the form of monies, goods or services, other than the standard commission or fee for that service.

3. How we manage conflicts of interest

The following are examples of conflicts of interest and how we manage these conflicts:

Contracts, proposed contracts and similar transactions or arrangements

A conflict of interest may arise where an employee has a direct, or indirect interest in a transaction. This may be where the employee has a connection with the other party to the transaction, or where the employee's family has a connection. The connection may be from a directorship, significant shareholding, employment or consultancy.

Veritas Wealth Management (PTY) Ltd requires disclosure of any connection which could, or could be seen to have the effect of compromising the judgment of any of our employees. Employees are required to notify Veritas Wealth Management (PTY) Ltd of any such potential conflicts of interest, who will then decide if the employee can be involved in the transaction. Veritas Wealth Management (PTY) Ltd will also ensure that the relevant provisions have been met.

Gifts, Hospitality & Inducements
